

Dear UEFI Enthusiasts and Firmware Developers,

The UEFI Testing Working Group (UTWG) from the Unified EFI Forum (UEFI) would like to invite you to the UEFI Technology Conference, which will be held at AMD Headquarters in Sunnyvale, CA the week of Sept 24th, 2007. AMD, Intel, Microsoft and the UEFI Forum will co-sponsor this Conference. The Conference will consist of a plugfest event and advanced technical training sessions. One key focus of the plugfest will be to test the boot and installation process for UEFI support on Windows PCs.

The event is open and free to all attendees from companies that are UEFI members. We encourage companies who are not yet on the UEFI member's list to sign up at <http://www.uefi.org> and get ready to participate.

Upon receiving your participation response and interest, we will send you a logistics package to help you prepare for a successful test event. Additionally, participants are encouraged to download and run the UEFI Self Certification Tests (SCT) 2.0, and to submit the results to the UTWG prior to the event. The UEFI SCT 2.0 release is available on the UEFI web site at <http://www.uefi.org>

Participants in the test event will include UEFI members who are Add-in Card Vendors, Operating System Vendors, Independent Software Vendors, Independent BIOS Vendors and Original Equipment/Design Manufacturers (OEM/ODM) platform Vendors.

The purpose of this Conference is to provide the computing industry with an opportunity to conduct interoperability tests with a variety of implementations of UEFI and interact with implementers directly. This event will allow add-in cards to run the UEFI SCT on various UEFI system implementations and to test using a variety of Operating Systems. This event will also help platform vendors to test motherboards and systems supporting UEFI. In addition, advanced UEFI technology trainings will be provided.

If you know of other groups/divisions in your company that would benefit from attending, please forward this letter to them.

Please respond to Preeta Raman (preeta.raman@amd.com) by August 15th, 2007 to let us know if you will be attending this event.

I would like, on behalf of UTWG, to thank AMD for providing the facilities and hosting this event with the UEFI Forum.

We look forward to seeing you in Sunnyvale!

Best Regards,
